DOG ATTACK 'TERROR' IN TOWN PARK

Baby and tot bitten as mums try to protect them

SHOCKED:
Melanie Milsom,

TWO mums have spoken of their horror after their children were attacked by dogs in Harlow Town Park.

Melanie Milsom (25) and Jenny Saban (27) had just left the park's adventure playground with their three youngsters and a friend's child when the two Labradors came bounding after them.

Melanie, of Milwards, was pushing one-year-old daughter Libby in her pram. She said the dogs made straight for the children because they were eating biscuits.

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertssexnews.co.uk

"It was terrifying," she told the Star. "The dogs were really aggressively going for the biscuits. One of them had its head in the buggy of Jenny's 10-month-old baby, Amy, and was nipping her to get at the food. I ended up having to lift Libby's buggy while trying to kick the dog away from Amy."

Jenny, who lives in Ware, said she had to protect her baby while frantically trying to stop the other dog from attacking four-year-old daughter Ellie.

"Both Ellie and Amy were screaming hysterically," she said. "We just didn't know what to do as we were both so shocked."

"I just tried to get the dogs off my children but both got bitten. They have marks on their skin."

Jenny said the dogs' owner, who had been sitting some distance away, then came over to collect the animals.

"Both my children were screaming and he just muttered something about the dogs being greedy and walked away," she said. "It was unbelievable."

Melanie said: "Harlow Town Park was one of my favourite places to go with the kids but the whole experience has really put me off."

"I'm also really nervous around other dogs now, despite being a dog owner myself."

Jenny added: "My four-year-old is now terrified of animals. She wouldn't even go into Pets Corner the other day because there was a chicken walking around."

Poppy Appeal thief jailed for four years

A THIEF who stole Poppy Appeal collection boxes has been jailed for four years.

Matthew Cole (39) took the boxes from pubs, petrol stations and community centres in Harlow and Brentwood. He also stole cheques for amounts totalling more than £26,000 from one victim and cash from two vicars.

Cole, of Moorfield, Harlow, pleaded guilty at Chelmsford Crown Court to a number of offences of theft and burglary and asked for six other offences to be taken into consideration.

Jailing the former estate agent on Tuesday, Judge Karen Walden-Smith described his crimes as "despicable".

"You targeted elderly and vulnerable people who placed their faith and trust in

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

you and distracted them or stole from charities," she told him.

"The public's view of these is it is the lowest offence anyone can stoop towards. The public give money to honour those who serve their country and stealing those boxes has an impact on the people at large who wish to donate as well as the recipients."

The court was told that Cole's main victim was an elderly friend of his mother's for whom he carried out odd jobs.

During an 18-month period leading up to August 31, 2008 he stole cheques from her and arranged for two people to cash them for him.

The court heard he later took £100 from a priest at the Holy Cross Church parsonage in Harlow, cash and jewellery from another clergyman and money and jewellery from Epping Chapel.

Cole stole the Royal British Legion collection boxes from Harlow Playhouse, the Latton Bush Community Centre, the Green Man pub at Mulberry Green and the Esso Petrol Station on Tillwicks Road. Some of his crimes were captured on CCTV.

Gary Ryan, representing Cole, said in mitigation he had become addicted to cocaine while working as an estate agent before changing career and training for the RAF.

Mr Ryan said Cole was later discharged on medical grounds suffering from "combat stress".

Fewer claiming jobless benefit

THE number of people claiming unemployment benefits in Harlow fell last month.

A report by the Office for National Statistics showed there were 2,534 claimants in the Harlow parliamentary constituency in March – 33 fewer than in February.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon welcomed the news but warned there were still tough times ahead.

"It is good news that, despite the terrible economic situation in which we are paying £120m a day in debt interest alone, at Harlow is still open for business," he said.

"This is the second month that unemployment has dropped and although the road remains rocky it is encouraging news."

Dog attack terror

"The fact is people shouldn't be allowed to have their dogs, whatever their temperaments, off leads in that part of the park, especially when it is the middle of the day and there are lots of children around."

A police spokesperson confirmed they were investigating the incident and warned dog owners to keep their animals on a lead while in the park.

PC Terry Rakley, of the Harlow Incident Management Unit, said: "We will investigate all reports of this kind and with such offences will consider prosecuting the owners under the Dangerous Dogs Act."

Youngsters up for a challenge

ASPIRING athletes from across East Anglia headed for Harlow on Saturday to compete in the annual All-Ability Challenge Cup.

The competition saw teams of sport-mad youngsters from Harlow, Ipswich, Baxley and Shenfield take part in events including, javelin, long jump, shot put and 60m, 100m and 200m races at the Mark Hall athletics track.

Joining the athletes at the all-day event were local Paralympic hopefuls Anne Wafula-Strike and Richard Chiassaro, while swimmer Chris Holmes opened the contest with a speech marking the 500-day countdown to the London 2012 Paralympics.

The cup itself was won for the third year running by the Orwell Panthers, with medals and trophies presented to individual winners by Harlow Council chairman Sue Livings.

Lynn Seward, head of community services at Harlow Council, said: "Supporting young athletes to take part in sport and reach their potential was the focus of this event as we mark 500 days until the London 2012 Paralympics.

"For Harlow's athletes events like this help prepare them for future competitions.

"Chris's inspirational opening speech really set the tone for this event and set out that if you work hard you can achieve anything."

Don't give a helping hand to burglars this summer

ESSEX police are urging householders to take extra care securing their property as the summer approaches.

Burglars take advantage of the warm weather when more people are using front and rear gardens during the summer months. And they can gain easy access to homes when UPVC doors are not locked correctly.

"Criminals will call at houses with UPVC doors and if there is no reply they will try the handle," said a police spokesman. "If the handle pushes down this means the door is not secured properly with a key and they then have ways of bypassing the basic lock to gain entry."

"Most people are unaware for some time on their return that they have been burgled and when they do they can't understand how entry has been gained."

To fully lock a UPVC door the handle must be pushed up to activate the locking bolts and then the door must be double locked with the key, ensuring the handle cannot be pushed down.

Police also want people to report seeing anyone acting suspiciously at the front door of a house.

School patrol axe 'puts lives at risk'

Vandalised sculpture restored

AFTER several days of painstaking work, one of Harlow's most distinctive sculptures has been restored to its former glory after being vandalised.

Shoal, created by artist Will Spankie, was installed in the Town Park paddling pool after winning the Star-backed Harlow Hotspots competition back in 2009. But yobs daubed it with paint and scored the Kilkenny limestone surface with blades.

The piece was designed by pupils at Burnt Mill School during a special workshop overseen by the artist.

WORRIED parents have voiced their concerns that children's safety could be placed at risk after Essex County Council axed a crossing patrol at a Harlow primary school.

Youngsters crossing busy Tending Road to get to Abbotswell School now have to contend with traffic themselves after the authority decided not to replace the school's 'lollipop lady' when she retired.

School headteacher Lesley Lynn told the Star she had received a number of telephone calls from parents.

"We think that the crossing is needed and parents think that the crossing is needed," she said.

"When the plans were first proposed there was a big campaign against them by both staff and parents who know the danger Tending Road potentially poses, so I was very surprised when it still went ahead."

"There is a lot of traffic on the road, including a bus route. Many of our pupils coming from the Willow Field area have no other option but to

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

cross it so we are very concerned."

She added: "We do have one other crossing in Partridge Road but even that is only temporarily staffed at the moment so we are uncertain what is going to happen."

The school is one of 11 in the county that have been hit with crossing cutbacks following a series of assessments and school consultations which the county council claims were in line with Road Safety GB guidelines.

But local councillor Tony Durcan has launched a campaign to have the crossing patrol reinstated, accusing County Hall of putting cost-cutting above children's safety.

"How can any one believe that this road does not require a school crossing?" he said. "The current county council is more interested in slashing budgets than providing a safe place to cross for our local children."

"This is a silly and unsafe decision that will put children's lives at risk."

Matthew receives medal on return from Afghanistan

A SENIOR aircraftman serving with the RAF has been presented with a campaign medal after completing a six-month tour of duty in Afghanistan.

Matthew Pack, from Harlow, was deployed to camps Bastion and Kandahar to support the joint helicopter force.

He was part of the team that ensured the Lynx helicopter crews had all the survival equipment and flight clothing they needed.

"In all 140 to 150 pilots depended on us to make sure they had everything they needed to do their job properly," he said.

"The air crews needed to be ready to fully support the troops on the ground so we were always under a lot of pressure, but we came through and I am proud to have done my bit to help our mission in Afghanistan."

Matthew, whose parents also live in Harlow, is pictured receiving his medal from Brigadier Mike Ellis of the Royal Marines during a ceremony at the barracks of the 1st Regiment Army Air Corps in north Germany.

Town gears up for wedding celebrations

WITH the wedding of the year just one week away, Harlow residents will be spoilt for choice on ways to celebrate the big day.

A number of neighbourhoods are planning to hold Royal wedding street parties, with Essex County Council reporting it has approved four requests for road closures in Churchfield, Challinor, Stile Croft and Ranulf Close.

According to Harlow Council, at least 20 other smaller celebrations will be taking place across the town, while many schools will be hosting their own events over the next week.

Elderly residents will be able to celebrate the nuptials at tea parties organised by the council at the Leah Manning Centre and Sumners Farm Close sheltered housing complex, and Harlow Museum is hosting a "weddings in the past" exhibition featuring dresses, pictures and bridal souvenirs from days gone.

Not to be outdone, music venue The Square, in Fourth Avenue, will be joining the party by hosting its very own Right Royal Knees Up on the evening of April 29, headlined by Chas Hodges of Chas 'n' Dave fame. He will be playing a selection of the legendary duo's greatest hits.

Tickets for the performance cost £8 in advance from www.thesquareharlow.com or direct from the venue.

Meanwhile, Harlow Council is getting into the party spirit by giving away 15 'Party in a Box' kits containing hats, balloons, a large flag and bunting.

For your chance to win all you need to make your celebration one to remember, email a brief description of your event to fergus.sheppard@harlow.gov.uk by tomorrow (Friday), putting 'Party in a Box' in the subject field.

'New owners ordered me to shut my shop'

THE owner of one of Harlow's longest-established shops claims he has been forced out of the Harvey Centre.

Chris Giles, who ran Silver Scents with wife Pat, was ordered to vacate the unit he has occupied in the shopping centre for the past 16 years after falling into arrears with lease payments.

The shopkeeper, pictured right, claimed he had offered to start paying off his debt in instalments but said the centre's new owners – a consortium made up of property investment firms Tristan Capital, AEW Europe and Addington Capital – demanded he pay the full amount outright or face eviction.

"I hold my hands up and admit that we've fallen behind on our payments, but as most shopkeepers will tell you it's been extremely difficult to make ends meet recently," he told the Star.

"We've been there for 16 years,

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

but that obviously counts for nothing. I was hoping for a bit of help and support from the new owners but it seems they just wanted me out."

Mr Giles said he had spoken to other independent traders based in the shopping centre who were now concerned they would suffer a similar fate.

"There seems to be a consensus that the management wants rid of us so they can fill the place with the same high street chain shops you see in every town across the UK," he added.

A spokesman for the Harvey Centre's management team said its relationship with Mr Giles had been "strained" in recent years but dismissed his claim he had been forced out.

"Our relationship with Silver Scents has been strained for a number of years and we have been more than supportive of the business during that period," he said.

"The Harvey Centre is committed to providing its customers with a varied retail offer that consists of a balance of High Street multiples and good quality independent retail.

"It is the quality of this mix that continues to ensure the Harvey Centre and Harlow remains attractive to a wide catchment area."

Golfers chip in to help Laughter charity

KEEN golfers clubbed together to raise more than £1,000 for a charity supported by Harlow Council chairman Sue Livings.

Twelve teams from local businesses took part in the competition at Canons Brook Golf Club on Friday.

All proceeds from the event will go to The Laughter Specialists, a group of specially trained entertainers who provide fun for sick children, youngsters with special needs and vulnerable adults.

The event was then rounded off with dinner, a raffle and the presentation of trophies, with Kier Harlow's 'B' Team being announced as the overall winners.

Mrs Livings said: "I'm delighted that so many local businesses chose to support this very worthy cause by entering teams, donating raffle prizes or sponsoring various parts of the day.

"It was a great day and together we raised much-needed money for charity."

Experience movies in a whole new setting

By JAMES BURTON
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE sky's the limit for two film buffs who are launching an ambitious new outdoor cinema.

Next month Ken Rankin and Phil Fellows' latest venture – the Drive-In Movie Experience – takes off at North Weald Airfield.

The pair, who have worked in event management for more than 20 years and helped run some of Britain's biggest festivals, want to recapture the thrill and romance of the silver screen in the era before the arrival of big chains.

As well as showing a huge variety of classics on a gigantic 44ft-wide inflatable screen, Ken and Phil have promised all kinds of themed hidden extras to make every night special.

In a hi-tech twist, they have got their own FM frequency to broadcast the soundtrack straight to car radios. However, the films are not just for drivers – those without wheels can hire headphones.

Until the end of October, DIME will be showing 20 films including family animations Up, Toy Story 3 and Shrek, musicals Mamma Mia!, Grease, Moulin Rouge and The Rocky Horror Show, '60s crime caper The Italian Job and space-horror Alien.

Two August screenings will be decided by a public vote, with films as diverse as Some Like It Hot, The Bourne Identity and Top Gun in the running.

And to commemorate the 71st anniversary of the Battle of Britain, DIME is showing the 1969 film of the same name and 1955's The Dam Busters on September 17 and 18.

Over the weekend, they hope to invite pilots from across the UK to bring their planes and put them on display. There are even plans to arrange a fly-past by an original Spitfire.

Although the airfield site can accommodate 700 cars, there will be a maximum of 200 per evening so guests have plenty of space. There will also be room for a further 150 viewers without cars.

Guests are encouraged to bring a picnic, with packed feasts from the Newmarket Hamper Company available to pre-order for those who want the minimum of fuss.

There will also be a licensed bar selling everything from beer and ales to coffee and cakes, with a viewing platform available for hire. Snacks on offer at the venue's American-themed diner include imported popcorn and candy, with catering on request for bigger occasions. The projector will be HD-quality, while the screen will be provided by German supplier Aircrain, whose 100ft model is the biggest in the world. It is hoped some films will be shown on this screen when the firm visits Britain later in the year.

Speaking from DIME's headquarters in Berden, Phil said it all came about when they saw people wearing headphones at a similar drive-in event in a field.

"We were watching a bunch of loonies dancing around in total silence to Mamma Mia! and we realised we could do that, but much better!

"We want to be known as the drive-in movie experience for the UK. We're not trying to be quirky or unusual, but just want to show the movies that people really love and enjoy in a different setting.

"Because we come from an event management background, there's going to be a lot of additional surprises chucked in. That's why we're billing it as an experience; it's not just about going to see the film."

Ken added: "We're pricing very competitively but we're not in competition with the big multiplexes of this world – this is something very different. We appreciate our customers and want to look after them.

"I think things have come full circle. People stopped going to the cinema because the home cinema became king about 10-12 years ago, but now they're sick to death of it.

"This is something different and people want something different. They don't want to pay God knows how much for popcorn and a drink, which is stupidly overpriced.

"Here, they can actually get value for money."

FROM helping Kylie and Dannii Minogue with their costume changes to acting as bodyguard for Jason Bourne, Ken Rankin and Phil Fellows have seen and done it all.

The Midlanders, who first met on the live events circuit 14 years ago, have worked with a roll-call of famous faces to make any celebrity spotter green with envy. Ken's even laid his lucky hands on pop's most desirable derriere.

On top of stints as a jobbing musician, the experienced stage technician worked at top Derby venue The Assembly Rooms from the late 1980s until 2000.

He oversaw shows by everyone from unsigned acts to million-selling rockers INXS, also touring with Aussie siblings Kylie and Dannii and their entourage of backing singers.

He said: "You were just throwing bodies out onto the stage in darkness – it's something I did with the Russian Ice Dancers as well. That was pretty dangerous because they'd just come flying at you and you'd have to steer them to where they needed to be.

"Obviously, because it was dark, you'd pretty much have to grab any bit of body that was available!"

Ken also helped to organise the annual Cambridge Folk Festival, securing the services of former Clash frontman Joe Strummer in 2002. It was one of the punk legend's final appearances before his death later that year.

Phil, meanwhile, has provided protection for the likes of former US Secretary of State Colin Powell, Archbishop Desmond Tutu and even Hollywood superstar Matt Damon.

Now 48, he joined a security firm at the age of 21 and was soon trained up for frontline work when new staff were urgently needed. Soon afterwards, big names beckoned.

He said: "There have certainly been some interesting times in the past. In the early part of my career we didn't do celebrities. Later on, though, this 'celebrity culture' took over in the UK and we got heavily involved with the Lord of the Rings cast when they appeared over here. We also did security for Matt Damon when he was promoting his Bourne trilogy."

The pair hope their years in such high-profile circles will stand them in good stead for DIME.

Ken said: "It's going to be a fantastic summer and I'm really looking forward to it. Just about anything's possible because of who we know and who we've worked with over the years – and who we've been nice to. It's amazing how many favours you can get back!"

Council ready to spend £1m on replacing flats lighting

HARLOW Council is to spend more than £1m on installing new communal lighting in blocks of flats.

It will be the largest upgrade to the council's housing stock in decades and will affect 76 blocks which currently use original wiring from the 1950s and '60s.

During the 40-week programme managed by Kier Harlow, the existing lighting will be replaced with the latest standard in internal lighting plus new signs for entrances and lifts.

The council has now accepted a tender of £1,134,714 subject to leaseholder consultation and final agreement after five companies bid for the major contract.

Andrew Murray, head of housing services, said: "Improved lighting across our flat blocks will improve the appearance of our housing stock and we know residents welcome the feeling of safety and reassurance it brings.

"We believe the contract price represents real value for money and we look forward to getting on with the work."

Harlow has a higher than average rate of residents in social housing, with around one in three living in council-owned properties compared to just under one in five in the rest of England.

Accused enters not guilty pleas to sex offences

A MAN accused of offering young girls cash in exchange for sexual activity in his car faces a three-day trial after he denied the allegations.

Musheer Kamram (31) appeared at Chelmsford Crown Court on Monday for a preliminary hearing during which he pleaded not guilty to two charges of causing or inciting a child to engage in sexual activity by offering money.

The offences are alleged to have been committed in Harlow on February 20 last year against girls aged 12 and 13.

Kamram, from Wembley, was remanded on bail until the trial which is due to start on June 21.

Faces of thugs who robbed 98-year-old

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

POLICE investigating a burglary in which a 98-year-old woman was assaulted and robbed in her own home have this week released e-fit images of the two suspects.

The sickening crime was committed between 1.30pm and 1.45pm on Saturday, April 2 when two men barged their way into the victim's home in Rye Hill Road, Harlow.

FLASHBACK: Star, April 7

One of the crooks pushed her to the floor while the other ransacked the house searching for valuables. They stole cash and a gold ring of great sentimental value before making off in the direction of the Berecroft estate.

Although the woman suffered no serious physical injuries during the burglary, police say her ordeal left her shaken and scared.

Investigating officer PC Mick Orr told the Star this week: "Hopefully the e-fits will jog the memory of someone who spotted the offenders before or after they carried out this particularly nasty attack on a vulnerable lady.

"I am keen to speak with anyone who may have been in the area at the time of the incident to contact me. We want to bring these men to justice."

The suspects are both described as white and in their late 20s or early 30s. One was unshaven, around 5ft 11ins tall with short, messy black hair and wearing black clothing. The other had black hair, was wearing a yellow high visibility jacket and may have had a silver earring.

Anyone with information should contact PC Orr on 0300 333 4444 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Man arrested after van hit house faces driving charges

A 26-YEAR-old Harlow man who was arrested after a van smashed into a house at Harlow Common and ended up on its roof is to stand trial.

The accused has been charged with aggravated vehicle taking, dangerous driving, driving a motor vehicle otherwise than in accordance with a licence, failing to stop when required to do so by a constable or traffic warden, drink driving and using a motor vehicle without insurance.

WRECKAGE: Scene of the crash

He has been bailed to appear at either Chelmsford or Harlow Magistrates Courts on May 6.

He was arrested following the crash on January 25.

Police have announced they are taking no further action against a second man arrested on suspicion of aggravated vehicle taking after releasing him from bail.

BROADFIELDS PRIMARY:

Pupils were happy to stay late after classes when it involved hunting down some chocolate Easter treats. Children at the school, in Freshwaters, Harlow, had to put on their thinking caps and work out clues which led them to the treasure in an Easter egg hunt organised by the Friends of Broadfields.

A spokesperson for the group said: "This is the first time we've ever done an Easter egg hunt at the school but we just thought it would be a fun activity for the children to get involved with that also celebrated Easter.

"It went brilliantly. All the children had a great time and needless to say didn't have much trouble finding the chocolate eggs!"

GATEWAY NURSERY:

Children got very egg-cited when some fluffy additions joined their nursery last week.

As part of the Parnall Road nursery's Easter live chick hatching programme, the youngsters helped to hatch 13 chicks in a special incubator on loan from a local farm.

Senior development co-ordinator Debbie McGrath said: "It wasn't just the kids that were excited about the chicks, all the staff and parents couldn't wait for them to hatch too.

"The chicks are lovely and are all doing really well.

"It's the second time we've done this. Not only is it a good way to get ready for Easter, but it's also a nice experience for the children and helps them to get some understanding about the cycle of life."

JEROUNDS PRIMARY:

There was a surprise for children at the Pyenest Road school when a special visitor hopped in for a visit.

As a special reward for all the pupils' hard work last term, the Friends of Jerounds group contacted the Easter Bunny who agreed to take the children on an Easter hunt around the school.

When the group got back they found that their Easter baskets had "magically" been filled with chocolate.

A school spokesperson said: "They were all extremely excited when the Easter Bunny came to visit and had a lovely time on their hunt.

"After working so hard all term we thought the children had earned this well-deserved treat and that it was a nice way to break up for Easter."

Pictured with the Easter Bunny are Jake Edwards, Danny Raymond, Bethany Patch, Jake Collier, Libby Pratt and Ellie Morrison.

Join bike ride for baby unit appeal

ORGANISERS of this year's Princess Alexandra Hospital Neonatal Bike Ride are urging residents to join them in the saddle to raise funds for a new unit.

Following the success of last year's event which saw 61 local cyclists take part in the 13.6-mile ride, it is hoped that even more people will take part to support the hospital's Neonatal Intensive Care Appeal which has a target of £500,000.

"Last year we had an absolutely fantastic afternoon which raised over £10,000 and helped to bring the community and hospital staff together for a great cause," said event organiser Lisa Wilson.

"This year we are looking for a minimum of 100 riders and are hoping to raise even more money towards the Neonatal Intensive Care Appeal.

"The fact is you never know when you might be in a position where you need the specialist services of the neonatal department. Unfortunately, of the 4,000 babies born each year at PAH, around 350 will have to go into the unit which is why it is so important that we are able to provide the right care to help get them better."

The charity bike ride, which takes place on Sunday, June 26 at 2pm, is being led by Cycle Harlow and starts from the hospital social club.

Trailing a similar circular route to last year's event, it will follow a combination of cycle tracks and public roads through Harlow and finish up with a barbecue back at the club.

"Cyclists can choose whether they want to get sponsored for the event or just take part," added Lisa, "but either way it would be great to see them."

Registration for the ride costs £17.50 per person and must be done before May 30. The entry fee includes a fundraising pack and event T-Shirt.

Charity seeking tower abseilers

A NATIONAL disability charity based in Harlow is urging volunteers to help them raise vital funds by taking part in Harlow Tye Rotary Club's annual abseil.

Motability hopes to raise more than £2,000 from the event which will be taking place at the Church Langely water tower over the Royal wedding weekend - Saturday, April 30 and Sunday, May 1.

Spokesperson Aine Canavan, said: "Times are difficult at the moment so it would be wonderful if some more people could help us to raise some funds.

"Everyone who takes part in the abseil always has a fantastic time and any funds raised will go directly towards essential mobility schemes helping disabled people to live a normal life."

Anyone willing to take the plunge for Motability should contact Aine straight away at aine@motability.co.uk or by calling her on (01279) 632258.

Four share in cash windfall

FOUR Harlow organisations have been awarded grants from Essex County Council's Essex Millennium Fund and the Chairman's Fund 2011.

Local charities Streets2Homes, which supports homeless people in the area, and Young Concern Trust, a counselling service for young people in and around Harlow, both received £4,000 to aid various running costs.

Friends of the Arts at Princess Alexandra Hospital was awarded £1,500 for art display equipment, and Harlow Decorative and Fine Arts Society received £1,300 for a digital projector to aid their work promoting the fine arts in Harlow.

At the awards ceremony in Chelmsford last week, county council chairman Rodney Bass praised the organisations.

"Listening to the work these groups do gives the rest of us a sense of realism about what is going on in Essex," he said.

A total of 27 Essex-based voluntary and community groups shared in the £69,466 giveaway.

Jordan's charity challenge is driven by pedal power

A HARLOW man who only started cycling in January will be swapping his office suit for lycra shorts to ride more than 1,000 miles for charity.

Jordan Lambert (27) is taking on the gruelling 10-day Lands End to John O'Groats challenge to raise funds for Cancer Research and the Scleroderma Society.

Scleroderma is a rare and incurable condition in which the body's immune system begins to attack its own tissues.

Mr Lambert, of Purford Green, will be accompanied by four friends on the trip.

"I have wanted to do something like this for years, so when a friend suggested it I thought why not?" he said this week.

"Now that it's almost here I'm really nervous. I suppose you just don't know how much your body can really take until you push it.

"Hopefully I won't bottle it halfway though. Both the charities are really close to my heart so I'm hoping that knowing how many people have donated for the cause will help get me through."

Mr Lambert, who lost his father to cancer three years ago, works as a financial trader in St Albans. He will be starting the 1,020-mile trek on Good Friday.

"I'm basically going to be in pain for 10 days straight with little chance of recovery so I'm hoping that I manage to raise plenty of money for these very worthy causes."

PAH canteen team get a taste for pink

THIS week the canteen team at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital have been giving their customers a sneak preview of what they will be wearing when they set off on the St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk.

Some members of the team have taken part in previous years but this time they are being joined by colleagues who have personal experience of the work of the hospice.

"Working in the hospital we are of course more than aware of the great work of St Clare and the patients it supports," said catering manager Andy Slade.

"Taking part in the Midnight Walk is about giving something back and showing our support. We've got a pretty big team which is fantastic.

"We've got colleagues signed up and they've got their mums, sisters and daughters joining them. We've got a few chaps as well. We are now starting to collect sponsorship from around the hospital as a team and hope to raise as much as we can for St Clare.

"We're looking forward to the night and urge others to sign up. It's a fantastic night out and you'll be helping a great local charity."

Midnight Walk

Tracy Stratford, events fundraiser for St Clare, said: "There are now less than two months to go until the walk and we now have more than 730 people signed up to paint the town pink with us which is more than we have ever had at this point in time.

This year's event is set to be even bigger and better and we would hate for anyone to miss out, so sign up today before it's too late. Why not gather a work team like hospital canteen team or, while you are visiting friends and family over Easter, invite them to walk with you."

The 10km walk around Harlow – which once again is supported by the Star – takes place on SATURDAY, JUNE 18. It will start from the car park outside the Asda supermarket at Water Gardens at 10.30pm. The entry fee is £15 per person and everyone taking part will receive a goody bag and 'I painted the town pink' T-shirt.

The evening begins with entertainment on stage from around 8pm with music and games. Shortly before the start of the walk there will be a Zumba-style warm-up session to get everyone in the mood.

"The sight of 1,500 flashing bunny ears and pink T-shirts is just amazing and so much fun," said Tracy. "The noise of over a thousand women chatting, joking and laughing is overwhelming."

Giles Wright, St Clare's communications manager, added: "I have the absolute pleasure of starting the walkers off. To look back over the top floor of the Water Gardens car park and see it a wash of pink

"Knowing the sponsorship raised by all taking part will make a huge difference to families in Harlow is very special".

To find out more about the Midnight Walk or to register online, log on to www.stclarehospice.org.uk. Alternatively, call the events team on (01279) 773750 to request an entry form.

Caroline retires after 11 years of fundraising

ONE of the team of fundraisers at St Clare Hospice has retired after 11 years of service. Caroline Bore first joined in 1999 as a volunteer but a year later became a full-time member of staff.

"I actually didn't know much about hospices and it was after getting a place in the London Marathon that I thought I would like to raise funds for a charity," said Caroline, who lives with husband Alan in Stansted.

"I came across St Clare in the Yellow Pages. The fundraising manager invited me down to meet him and the volunteer manager talked me into doing some voluntary work. The rest is history."

She added: "I have so many amazing memories. I have learned a lot from the patients, they are just amazing people. When you are standing out on a street corner in the pouring rain, you remember what you are doing and who for.

"I have met some fantastic people – patients, volunteers and members of staff."

On Sunday Caroline took part in the London Marathon, finishing the course in just under six hours.

Hospice communications manager Giles Wright said: "It's been such a pleasure working with Caroline in the four years I've been here.

"I think we have all learnt a lot from her. When we are out and about promoting the hospice there aren't many people who she doesn't know – the true measure of an excellent fundraiser."

MP sings praises of Twitter

ST Clare Hospice hosted a meeting at which Harlow MP Robert Halfon spoke to businessmen and women about the social networking site Twitter.

Mr Halfon, who is a keen tweeter, uses the site to highlight his work both at Westminster and in his constituency.

"Social networking sites are a brilliant medium for networking and getting your name out there but it will never substitute for meeting people in person," he said. "It will, however, provide the foundations for you to build upon relationships if you do it properly."

Give a dog a bad name

SIR, It is very unfortunate that a horse at Pets' Corner was attacked by a dog (Star, April 14) but every time the breed of the dog is unknown it is described as a "Staffordshire type", which really infuriates me.

I am a very proud owner of two gorgeous staffies and not once have they ever even growled at another dog. In fact, the older one was attacked by a boxer which left her bleeding all over me as I carried her home and she is now covered with scars on her face. But you would never read this in the paper unless it was my dog attacking the boxer.

I agree a lot of staffies are mistreated but this is down to the owner, not the breed of dog. It is not in their nature to attack at all.

In the same paper I read about another staffie attack which again is very unfortunate. But for the owner to say it could have attacked a child is disgusting. Jack Russells have a higher rate of attacking a human than a staffie.

I bet there are plenty of well-behaved staffies out there but they seem to get nothing but a bad name. My nieces play with my dogs all the time and I have nothing but trust in them.

Not all staffie owners are yobs but I seem to be the only one to say this.

More bun than burger

SIR, Who gave the new roundabout at the junction of the A414 and Southern Way the absolutely ridiculous name of the hamburger roundabout? What planet are they on?

This name bears no resemblance to the structure and is a typical downmarket junk name, as in the food it represents.

What we need is a more cultured, sophisticated name, one that accurately illustrates the complex geometrical infrastructure of this object and also conveys the highbrow stimulus of intellectual creativity that we, the people of Harlow, are renowned for.

I, therefore, christen this junction the hot cross bun roundabout!

Thin end of the (green) wedge

SIR, Your correspondent Ron Bill is right to be concerned about the ability and willingness of Harlow Council to ride roughshod over the legal protection given to our valued green spaces (Letters, April 14).

Successive councils have, when pressed, stated their loyalty to the preservation of our green wedges and yet they continue to encourage and assist developers to bring forward proposals for the destruction of these and other valued green spaces.

Just consider what has happened in the past decade or so:

● A small part of the green wedge was taken to enable Third Avenue to be dualled outside The Water Gardens car park entrance. Small, but the die was cast.

● Our much-admired sports centre, ski slope, athletics track, cricket field and football stadium are now underneath a housing development of questionable quality or worth.

● Due to the loss of the sports centre we also lost the playing fields to the south of the former Netteswell School for the construction of the Leisurezone and its car park.

No doubt Harlow Rugby Club still want to move from Ram Gorse, selling the site for development. It expressed a desire to move to the Latton Farm site on a major green wedge which is currently agricultural land. Should this idea ever surface again it would be devastating, both for Ram Gorse and Latton Farm.

Harlow Health Centre Trust has planning permission to build a replacement for Lister House and a multi-use games area on the green wedge along Abercrombie Way. And now we have the proposal to build 1,200 dwellings on agricultural land north of Gilden Way.

All this, despite the regular assertions that the green spaces are safe in the hands of our elected representatives.

I have voted at every election, both local and national, since I was eligible to do so and I have never been a member of any political party. I want to vote on May 5 but given the record of successive councils of all political persuasions in Harlow what am I to do? It might have been an easier decision if the Green Party had put up candidates.

As Mr Bill has said, it's time for the parties represented in next month's election to state clearly their intentions regarding our green spaces. Nothing less will do.

John Curry
Old Orchard, Harlow

SIR, The Star has recently carried some correspondence concerning a "hamburger" on the A414. It seems an awful amount of fuss over something that can be avoided by a simple swerve. Or am I missing the point?

Door locks keep us safe

SIR, This week people living in Mallows Green had what is called a ward check, the first in a long time.

What did this ward check reveal? Not the damaged walls or cracks in ceilings. Oh no, it only revealed that some of us have locks on our communal doors which lead to each separate flat for safety and security.

A Harlow Council jobsworth has now told us to take the locks off the doors, which will leave us vulnerable again. Will they also demand we take the locks off our front doors?

The threatening letter – and it was threatening – demanded the removal of the locks within three days because they were a fire risk. A fire risk in a concrete communal stairwell and hallway?

Even if there was a fire in the concrete hallway, removing the locks from our doors will serve no purpose. Where could we go? We cannot get out of the windows as they can't be opened.

I and my neighbour are just two homeowners in Mallows Green who have had locks on our doors for over 15 years. Why? Because some of us have been victims of crimes, we have had drug dealers sitting and smoking outside our front doorsteps with music blaring from mobile phones, shouting foul and abusive language. We have had fires set outside our front doors, as well as faeces and urine.

Since placing the locks on the doors we have felt safe and secure. It has prevented these problems on our doorsteps.

The council now seems to want to continue to alienate themselves with bullying antics rather than to have a homeowner and tenant relationship.

Are they not supposed to work for us? Are they not our civil servants? Should they not focus on real serious issues in our town such as anti-social behaviour and make noticeable improvements?

S. Sadler
Mallows Green, Harlow

Good service on tap

SIR, The other day I rang Contact Harlow to report a problem with an external tap in a communal area.

The lady who took the call logged it and said she would pass it on to Kier Harlow. Within a couple of minutes Kier Harlow rang to confirm the details.

The tap was fixed a mere 90 minutes after I reported it to the council. Now that's what I call good service.

Matthew Gillman
(address supplied - Editor)

Cut out the dead wood

SIR, What Harlow Council should be doing instead of cutting services is cutting out all of the dead wood it has in its numerous departments.

Until they do, what is the point of voting in the council elections? All we do is keep or replace councillors and we still have the dead wood.

So, hands off services and look nearer to home where there should be large savings to be had.

The cow that can jump like a horse

WHEN Regina Mayer's parents told their daughter they couldn't afford to buy her a horse, her hopes of becoming a champion showjumper seemed to have been dashed. But the enterprising German teenager refused to give up on her dream and put a saddle on one of her father's cows instead!

Following hours of training, tons of treats and a few false starts, the results of Regina's efforts with trusty steed Luna have made headlines around the world.

The pair regularly go on long rides through the German countryside – and now even hurdle over jumps made out of beer crates and painted logs! Luna was born two years ago and, after a few walks, became accustomed to human contact and the feel of riding equipment.

Just six months later Regina was able to sit in her saddle for the first time. Now Luna understands commands including 'go', 'stand' and 'gallop'.

Regina (15), who lives in southern Germany, told reporters: "She thinks she is a horse.

"It's a lot of work but I enjoy it. When she wants to do something she does it and when she doesn't, she doesn't. She is often very headstrong but can also be really adorable."

Charities cash in as runners beat the heat

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

IT was ready, set, go as runners from the Star patch finally reaped the benefits of months of training for Sunday's 2011 London Marathon.

Despite the heat, they all managed to complete the 26.2 mile course and raised tens of thousands of pounds for charity in the process.

Seasoned marathon competitor Steve Hulcoop (66), of Five Acres, performed his usual skip, run and headstand routine for his 22nd marathon, completing the course in a time of five hours, 14 minutes and raising £1,500 for the charity Housing Justice.Sarah Morris (34), from Old Harlow, was thrilled to cross the finishing line in five hours exactly on her second marathon and successfully hit her fundraising target of £1,500 for deaf and blind charity Sense.Keith Borgars (30), of Collins Meadow, is hoping to raise in the region of £4,000 for MacMillan Cancer Support after completing the course in four hours, 25 minutes.Darren Curzon (37), of Staple Tye, finished in a time of five hours, 17 minutes and raised more than £1,500 for the Outward Bound Trust.Fundraisers at St Clare Hospice in Hastingwood were full of praise for its team of 18 runners, six of whom are from Harlow. They were Anne Kleijwegt, of East Park (four hours, 31 minutes), Owen Coyne, of Sheering Road (four hours, 58 minutes), Jade Ellis, of Westbury Rise, (five hours, seven minutes), Dawn Gibson, of Joyners Field (five hours, 24 minutes), Wendy Jones, of Rainbow Road (five hours, 36 minutes) and Louise Collarbone, of Ambery Court, (five hours, 49 minutes).Paul Newman (32), of Church Langley, narrowly missed his target of four hours, finishing in a time of four hours, 10 minutes. But he still beat his previous time and succeeded in reaching his fundraising target of £2,000 for Whizz-Kidz.Teacher Andy Kitson (37), of Chapel Fields, was running his third marathon for MacMillan Cancer Support in memory of his mother-in-law. He completed the course in four hours, 27 minutes and raised almost £1,000 for the charity.Novice marathon runner Gary O'Donnell (42) found it tough at times but battled through the pain barrier to finish in five hours, 16 minutes and smash his £3,000 fundraising target by an extra £1,200 for the Muscular Dystrophy Campaign.Car salesman Ivan Bonney (35) thought his marathon dreams were over when he suffered an injury after nine miles but said the support from the "amazing" crowds helped him to carry on. He finished in four hours, 20 minutes, raising more than £2,000 for Whizz Kidz.Vicki Impey (39) fulfilled her ambition when she completed the marathon, finishing in just over five hours. So far she has raised £900 for the Autistic Society.Best friends Lucy Burke (26), of Brooklane Field, and Rebecca Gagg (26), of Fullers Mead also did themselves proud after completing their first marathon in six hours, raising more than £4,000 between them for Children with Leukaemia.WE DID IT:

More stars of talent contest

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A FEW weeks ago we asked readers if a picture of Mrs Florence Ginn wearing her 'It's A Knockout' hat at the 1976 Harlow Old Folks Talent Contest brought back any memories – and it didn't take long for Nostalgia to be pointed in the direction of two other local "stars".

Edna Fogerty (83), of Old Road, Old Harlow, sent in a picture of her late mum Dorothy Bond. "I would like to have my mum remembered as she always loved to enter the talent contest," writes Edna.

Singer Dorothy, pictured above right, with Edna (left) and her sister Pat, was well-known throughout the town for her memorable renditions of old tunes in the talent contest which she entered annually for a staggering 21 years.

Her two favourite songs were always Sunshine of Your Smile and Roses of Picardy, and within the first two years of entering the competition she came first, winning a place in the national competition and coming third overall.

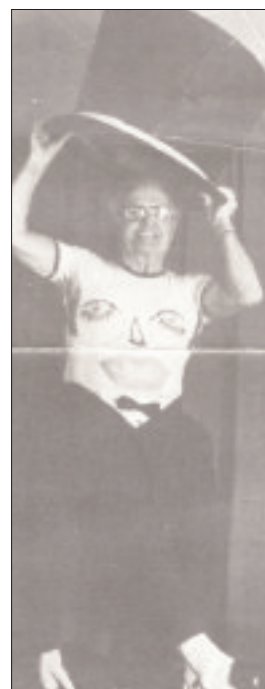

Another regular talent competition entrant was Fred Holgate, of School Lane, who recently celebrated his 100th birthday.

According to his wife Renee (90), who brought in this newspaper picture of Fred, right, he was something of a comic hero in the town in his prime.

"He loved entertaining," she said. "He was always doing something silly to put some smiles on faces whilst I was responsible for making the costumes."

"I remember the Hat Man which helped him to win the competition in 1979. We used a big lampshade for the top hat, stuffed the arms of a suit and drew a face on a white T-shirt. It was a lot of fun."

Did you have a talented older relative who you remember entering the Old Folks Talent Contest? If so, write to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow CM20 1JW or email vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

25 years ago

Prices of homes in Harlow have rocketed over the past six months according to a report by the Halifax Building Society. The most dramatic rise is an 18 per cent increase in the price of flats from £31,800 to £37,607. The cost of a terraced house rose from £38,500 to £41,010 and a semi-detached from £52,100 to £57,735.

Harlow Council has offered to host 200 elderly "evacuees" for a day during Mildenhall Air Show in Suffolk after fears of a reprisal attack from Libya following the actions of American and British governments. The old folk would be accommodated in a day centre in Harlow and be provided with lunch and entertainment. However MP Jerry Hayes has labelled the move as a "cynical political stunt".

Vandals have wrecked the Harlow Playbus, damaging a large amount of toys and play equipment. A witness spotted someone in the bus which was parked at the Sportscentre at 5pm on Monday and chased them away. Staff then went to check the bus but found it in an "awful mess" with signs that the vandals had tried to start a fire.

If the popularity of Harlow Pool's aquatubes remains the same as during their first five weeks of operation, they could pay for themselves within three years instead of five as originally thought. Councillor Mike Danvers explained to a meeting of the council last week that in just one week 5,322 people rode the tubes and a total of 20,388 had used them since they opened.

DO YOU REMEMBER: The chess kings

WERE you a member of the Kingsmoor Primary School chess team back in the 1970s?

If you were, then you may remember taking on the school's two chess kings – 10-year-old Rajan Wadhvani and 11-year-old Andrew Ginn.

The boys made the news locally when they both qualified for a place in the finals of the 1975 Evening Standard Junior Chess Championship and finished very near the top.

At the time, the boys told the local paper their big dream was to represent England in international matches one day.

However, Andrew's aunt and former Harlow resident Margaret Courtney (68), who sent in this newspaper clipping to Nostalgia, said that for Andrew – now aged 47 – that dream never came true.

"He is vice-principal of a college near Oxford," she said. "I don't know about Rajan though; maybe he is still around to tell us."

WIN tickets to the English National Opera

AN exciting new production of Benjamin Britten's opera A Midsummer Night's Dream, inspired by Shakespeare's much-loved play, is coming to the London stage.

And this week we are giving you the chance to win one of five pairs of tickets to this English National Opera production at the London Coliseum.

The dream cast includes Anna Christy as Tytania, Iestyn Davies as Oberon and the great bass-baritone Willard White as the laughable and yet lovable character Bottom.

It is directed by Christopher Alden, who recent productions for the ENO have been praised by critics and audiences alike.

It promises to be an unforgettable theatrical event, with the ENO's undisputed reputation for performing Britten operas will ensure an outstanding musical experience.

To be in with a chance of winning a pair of tickets, answer the question on the competition coupon and return it to: A Midsummer Night's Dream Competition, Harlow Star, PO Box 268, Cambridge CB24 6HF by Wednesday, April 27, 2011.

Alternatively you can enter via our dedicated competition link at www.harlowstar.co.uk. Be sure to enter 'A Midsummer Night's Dream' in the competition nameline or your entry will be discounted.

The ENO will be staging 10 performances of A Midsummer Night's Dream between May 19 and June 30. Tickets cost from £17; to book, call 0871 911 0200 or visit www.eno.org.

Peter and Michelle are here to help you overcome life-limiting choices. NLP is a fantastic method to make lasting change in your life. It enables you to understand what makes you tick, how you think, how you feel, and how you make sense of your world.
 What would it be like once you grasp this perspective and your whole life could be renewed now?
 They have 30 years trusted experience with a wide range of people from all age groups helping clients to produce lasting change and meet their goals.
 Phobias are disabling, make you feel alone, out of control; imagine a solution that is quick, painless and inexpensive, and puts you firmly in the driving seat.
 Their weight control programme works with how you think about yourself, about food, and how you believe people perceive you. If you were to feel empowered do you think you could act on it to make right choices?

Patient profiles aid stroke team

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

STROKE patients are now receiving care tailored to their individual needs thanks to the success of an initiative launched by Princess Alexandra Hospital.

For the past six months the care team working in the hospital's stroke unit have been devising specialist care plans for individual patients based on the results of patient profile questionnaires completed by visiting family members or friends.

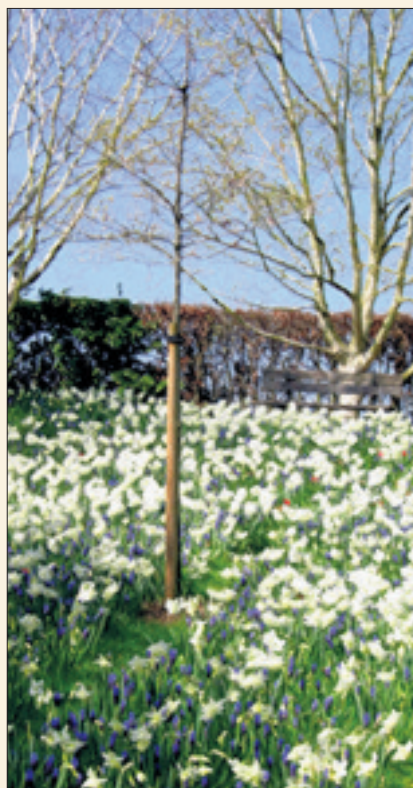

Speech and language therapist Stacey Wren said: "As a result of having a stroke, many patients come to the ward with a limited ability to communicate.

"The questionnaire gives us an idea of what sort of life they would expect to return to by finding out about their social and personal values.

"From this we can set some interesting goals for the patient and tailor their therapy and care so they are able to return to do the things that they enjoy as soon as possible.

She added: "As communication is difficult we use the information to know how the patient is coping emotionally and what subjects the care team can talk to them about to keep them feeling positive and motivated to work hard at their therapy."

Due to the success of the scheme the hospital is now looking to roll out patient profiling to other wards to improve hospital care for wider groups of patients.

A carpet of colour

A NEW bulb-planting machine has been used to bring spring colour to Harlow Town Park.

More than 50,000 wild bulbs were planted in the specimen garden area of the park in October. Visitors can now enjoy the results, with waves of daffodils, grape hyacinths, fritillaries and tulips in full bloom.

Some of the flowers surround an oak tree, pictured left, planted in memory of Private Robert Foster, the soldier from Harlow who was killed in action in Afghanistan in August 2007.

Graeme Bloomer, Harlow Council's head of regulation, said: "The park is really coming into its own now and the specimen garden is a particularly attractive feature. "It is a peaceful spot for family and friends to remember Private Foster or for those who simply want to come and enjoy the flowers and greenery."

The bulb planting machine works by drilling a hole in the ground tailored to the bulb and is more cost-effective than planting by hand.

A marriage made in comedy heaven

REVIEW

Confetti
Harlow Theatre Company
Victoria Hall Theatre

AS national reserves of bunting run dry and Royal wedding and boozy bank holiday fever grips the nation, this long-awaited revival of Simon Mawdsley's sparkling debut could not have been more apposite.

It may have been 20 years since the Harlow playwright's first full-length play – a smart observational comedy set at a typically strained family wedding – enjoyed its opening run, but it has more than stood the test of time.

Granted, the script had been dusted down and tarted up a little to ensure some of the jokes and references were not lost on a 21st century audience, but its themes are both timeless and universal.

Everyone has a hilarious or downright bizarre tale to tell about a wedding. Confetti brought some of the very best vividly to life using a cast of brilliantly idiosyncratic characters instantly recognisable to anyone who's ever had one too many at a wedding disco.

There's the embarrassing uncle (Andy Bownass's over-the-hill party animal Uncle Bob), the snooty mother of the bride (Chrissie Agnew's plummy mummy Betty), the cheeky, cheating groom (played with mischievous relish by Dan Thomas) and the sour-faced bridesmaid who'd rather be anywhere else (Angharad Bowen's tetchy take on Tanya).

A philosophical photographer (the impressive Lee Barnes) neatly linked the action together in a series of well-narrated freeze frames, while a depressed reverend (the gloriously grumpy Gavin Williams) whose doubts over the sanctity of marriage have just been confirmed by his cheating wife ("She ran off with a Jehova's Witness") provided one of the biggest laughs of the night as he hit the wheels of steel as "The Rev DJ".

Add a bankrupt father of the bride (the ever-brilliant Bernard Moule) and – best of all – a half-blind, blind drunk best man locked in a perpetual panic attack (a show-stealing performance from Alex Bennett) and you've got one hell of a party.

So raise a glass and toast Confetti – it's difficult to imagine how Wills and Kate's big day could ever live up to such a spectacle.

Tony's on his way to The Playhouse

ONE of the UK's most enduringly popular singers will be celebrating 50 years in music at Harlow Playhouse next Thursday (April 28).

Tony Christie will look back on a glittering career that has seen him achieve international fame with hits including (Is This The Way To) Amarillo? and I Did What I Did For Maria.

The legendary crooner has recently enjoyed something of a career resurgence after his collaboration with comedian Peter Kay on Amarillo was chosen as 2005's official Comic Relief single, topping the charts for seven weeks and introducing his music to a whole new generation.

After securing a brand new record deal with Acid Jazz, his new album Now's The Time hit the charts in January of this year and features collaborations with Sheffield icons Jarvis Cocker and Roisin Murphy.

Next week's 50th anniversary show will feature tracks from the album alongside a selection of his classics, including Las Vegas, Avenues And Alleyways, Walk Like A Panther, Every Word She Said and, of course, Amarillo.

The performance begins at 7.30pm and tickets cost $29. Call (01279) 431945 or book online at www.playhouseharlow.com.

Brand's Arthur lacks the charm of cuddly Dudley

ARTHUR certificate 12A, 1h50m

MONEY makes the world go around but it can't buy you love or a flawless update of the Oscar-winning 1981 comedy starring Dudley Moore as the eponymous billionaire and Sir John Gielgud as his long-suffering, strait-laced butler.

This time Russell Brand is the loveable yet irresponsible man-child whose limitless fortune allows him to circumvent the laws that keep the rest of society in check.

But unlike his predecessor, Brand doesn't possess the innate vulnerability or charm which compelled us to care for Arthur as he boozed himself towards oblivion. Instead, this new version opts for risqué humour and pop culture references.

Arthur Bach (Brand) is heir to his family's vast fortune presided over by his emotionally cold mother Vivienne (Geraldine James). The headline-grabbing antics of her son threaten the public image of Bach Worldwide and Vivienne summons Arthur to her office.

Vivienne informs Arthur that he will marry corporate executive Susan Johnson (Jennifer Garner) to ensure she can take charge of the company. If Arthur refuses, he will be cut off from his inheritance and the privileged lifestyle he has known since birth.

Arthur resigns himself to marital hell, only to run into tour guide and aspiring author Naomi (Greta Gerwig) outside Grand Central Station. She has no clue who he is and he responds warmly to her quirky sense of humour.

Soon after, Arthur tries unsuccessfully to persuade his mother to let him marry for love, not financial security. So Arthur goes ahead with the nuptials while secretly seeing Naomi, aided and abetted by his nanny Hobson (Helen Mirren) and chauffeur Bitterman (Luis Guzman).

Arthur boasts some nice moments, most of them involving Mirren and Brand whose on screen rapport sustains interest through the unwieldy 110-minute running time.

Brand's tomfoolery skirts brashness and sexual chemistry with Gerwig simmers but never quite boils.

Comparisons with the original film are not particularly favourable and in the current climate of global recession and austerity, it's hard to care about a man with pockets deeper than his feelings.

TURBO CHARGED:
Vin Diesel and Paul Walker in FAST & FURIOUS 5

FAST & FURIOUS 5 certificate 12A, 2h10m

JUSTIN Lin directs his third instalment of the franchise which reaches a turbo-charged fifth chapter with original cast members Vin Diesel, Paul Walker and Jordana Brewster reprising their pivotal roles.

After former cop Detective Brian O'Conner (Walker) and his lover Mia Toretto (Brewster) break her brother Dominic (Diesel) out of custody, they manage to stay one step ahead of the authorities by regularly criss-crossing borders. However, they are backed into a corner in Rio de Janeiro and the only way to gain their freedom is to carry out one final daredevil job.

On their trail is federal agent Luke Hobbs (Dwayne Johnson), who flouts the rules but always gets results. He amasses a top crew to bring Brian, Dominic and Mia to justice.

However, Hobbs quickly learns that no-one is truly innocent and there are other men who want the fugitives dead.

Red Riding Hood Valerie (Amanda Seyfried) lives with her father Cesaire (Billy Burke), mother Suzette (Virginia Madsen) and older sister in a village plagued by a werewolf. Every full moon, the locals tether a pig to a stake as a sacrifice and lock their doors. Away from the bloodshed, Valerie is in love with best friend Peter (Shiloh Fernandez) but must marry Henry Lazar (Max Irons), whose family fortune provides the best chance of a rosy future. When the creature claims the life of Valerie's sister under a blood red moon, renowned werewolf hunter Father Solomon (Gary Oldman) vows to unmask the beast in their midst.

Scream 4m It has been 10 years since the harrowing events of Scream 3 and traumatised survivor Sidney Prescott (Neve Campbell) has slowly put her shattered life back together. She has penned a self-help book about her harrowing experiences and embarks on a whirlwind book tour, which culminates in a high-profile visit to her hometown of Woodsboro. But her return brings Ghostface back into Sidney's life and the crazed killer targets everyone close to the young woman and her loved ones.

Winnie The Pooh Pooh (voiced by Jim Cummings) is rudely woken from his bed in order to help look for Eeyore's missing tail. When Owl misinterprets a note from Christopher Robin (Jack Boulter), the whole gang from the Hundred Acre Wood embarks on a daredevil expedition to track down a wild beast called the Backson.

Your Highness Prince Thadeous (Danny McBride) has always laboured in the shadow of his handsome and gallant brother, Prince Fabious (James Franco). When Fabious returns from yet another quest with beautiful Belladonna (Zooey Deschanel) who he intends to marry, dastardly sorcerer Leezar (Justin Theroux) kidnaps the bride-to-be and spirits her away to his castle lair. Fabious gives chase with loyal lieges Boremont (Damian Lewis) and Julie (Toby Jones), plus Thadeous begrudgingly in tow.

Rio (3D & 2D) Blu (voiced by Jesse Eisenberg) is a domesticated blue macaw who lives in relative luxury in the sleepy community of Moose Lake, Minnesota. Then Brazilian conservationist Tulio (Rodrigo Santoro) arrives in Moose Lake to ask Blu's owner Linda to take Blu to Rio de Janeiro so the bird can mate with the only known female blue macaw, Jewel (Anne Hathaway). But soon after Blu meets Jewel the birds are kidnapped by greedy animal smugglers led by the nefarious Marcel (Carlos Ponce).

Source Code Helicopter pilot Captain Colter Stevens (Jake Gyllenhaal) wakes on a train, sitting opposite Christina Warren (Michelle Monaghan) who calls him Sean. Seconds later the train explodes and Colter wakes up in a top secret facility under the control of Dr Rutledge (Jeffrey Wright), who needs Colter to identify the bomber. He is sent back into the source code, a parallel reality where he must gather intelligence about his fellow passengers on the train before it explodes.

Hop EB (voiced by Russell Brand) lives on Easter Island and harbours dreams of becoming a drummer in a rock band. So he runs away from home and heads for Hollywood, where he finds an unexpected ally in eternal loser Fred O'Hare (James Marsden).

This man was in the news every day for 15 years...

...he is a widower and he lives alone. Bill once ran his own newspaper and magazine stand but having retired, struggled to do his shopping and housework due to severe mobility problems. Help was a luxury that he simply could not afford, his only income being the state pension. Following a referral to NewstrAid, Bill was provided with advice which helped him secure additional income and a full rebate on his council tax. NewstrAid also funded a mobility scooter which allows him to gain access to local shops and amenities. A great many people are employed in the news distribution trade - some just like Bill are suffering through illness and others may have just fallen on hard times.

Are you retired or unable to work due to disability?
Perhaps you know of someone who has worked in the news trade who needs help?

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
April has so far been rather stop start for you. But any new projects you have implemented now stand a really good chance of picking-up momentum. You can also feel more at ease in yourself as glitches and petty irritations start to fade away. Beauty treatments or a new hairstyle may also tempt you. It's time to feel and be more glamorous Aries. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
Much lighter vibes light up this week, though someone in the family may be disappointing of your love moves. But generally communication will flow much more freely, and there is a sense of feeling clearer about life, which may have been missing recently. All sorts of projects, plans and involvements can sparkle and see you more optimistic. Call me now for your love scope in full...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
You can feel more outgoing, and the Sun will give you extra vitality. Yet there are still a lot of very deeply personal issues that you need to consider, at least concerning your love life. Are you set to yearn for someone from your past, and if so would it be any different a second time around? If you do venture back, do so with your eyes open Taurus. Call now for your love scope in full...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
If you've been feeling isolated or caught up in fulfilling your obligations or working hard, this is a perfect time to re-connect. You may have to overcome a nagging fear that others will reject you or be critical. Sharpen up your listening skills and see where it leads. Someone you've been struggling to get along with professionally can seem easier going. Call for more astral advice...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
Your ruler Mercury is now spinning forwards and all sorts of possibilities can head in your way. If there have been crossed wires, or cross words with a friend, this is the perfect time to extend the olive branch and put things on a better footing. Be guided most of all by sincerity, not this tiff. At work, an older person can really encourage you. Call your prediction line for more advice...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
Anything remotely pleasurable has proved hard to resist this month. And with Venus in a harsh square with Pluto being tempted, at every turn. Fortunately, the Sun's extra discipline and lots of bright, cheerful energy supports you and will help you to achieve a better balance between work and play. A delayed message delights you. Call now for more news...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
If you've been waiting on clarification of a current role, or about a new job, knowing where you stand will give you more peace of mind and the news can come thick and fast. You may even consider going into business with a friend. A love relationship can be blessed with a new shared interest or by a film or cultural outing. Call me for your love scope in full...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
If someone has been resisting your ideas for changes at home or within the family, you can now gain their support - but don't lay on the charity too thickly, instead just patiently explain your rationale and they can come around. If you wish to redecorate or move, a great time to do so. You can also hold a party plan night, or invite friends around to eat. Call for more news and advice...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
Holiday and travel plans are set to run far more smoothly and you can enjoy getting to know someone from further afield. The Sun is also urging you to polish up your CV, and show people what skills and qualities you have to offer. You can find yourself more in demand and may end up in the limelight quite accidentally, though delightfully! Call for more astral advice...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
Any ideas or projects that have stalled are propelled forwards, and at home you may find yourself looking to upgrade technology. Looking for a new relationship? You can find yourself chatting to and charming someone locally or through the internet. Your powers of seduction and persuasion have rarely been this high and can melt a tender heart. Call now for your love scope in full...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
A payment which has been slow to materialize now occurs. If you've been caught up in a property chain, things look brighter here too. You may also find yourself in the mood to take off, and travel to see friends or family. Breaking out like this can be good for you and for your soul. Whatever your circumstances, variety really is the spice of life. Call for your financial scope...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
You can find yourself enjoying a slice of fortune and feeling very cheered about this. However, just be aware that one friend can be more than a little envious of you. This month has not been great for mixing business and pleasure, so continue to be cautious and if you do make any gains, try to consolidate. You may regret it if you splash cash on trash. Call for your financial scope...

Additional Two reception rooms, luxury fitted kitchen, en suite to master bedroom

Guide price £550,000

Agent Masters & Watkins, 33 High Street, Old Harlow. Telephone (01279) 454647

CANISTER Hall, in Glovers Lane, Hastingwood, is in the enviable position of being surrounded by open farmland and with easy access links to the M11.

The house is on the market with Masters & Watkins, who have arranged an open day for the viewing of the property this Saturday (April 23) between 10.30am and 12.30pm.

The wooden front door opens into a hallway with wood flooring. From there is a door to the kitchen/breakfast room with windows to the front and side and a stable door to the back garden.

The kitchen features a range of matching wall and base mounted units with sink unit and drainer and a large double oven with hobs and integrated appliances.

There is a large lounge which has double doors opening onto the garden and windows to the side and rear, a dining room which has a bay window to the front of the house and a window to the side, and a downstairs cloakroom.

Upstairs, the master bedroom has an en-suite shower room. Bedrooms two and three face on to the front of the house while bedroom four has a window to the side of the property.

The family bathroom has tiled flooring and a four-piece suite with large roll-top bath.

Outside, the decked patio area leads into the mature garden with an array of trees and shrub borders. There is also a timber summerhouse with power and lighting which could be converted into an annexe or office.

Canister Hall is situated off a small lane and is in excellent decorative order throughout. Call Masters & Watkins on (01279) 454647 for further details.

IT'S no surprise people are confused about the housing market. This month conflicting information for March's housing figures suggest property prices both rose and fell in the same period.

Tiny it may well have been, but there was a decrease in property prices again last month according to new research from LSL Academetrics Index. To be precise, overall prices slipped by 0.1 per cent and the research suggested that, with inflation on the rise and flattened prices, the real value of homes is under pressure.

Dr Peter Williams, chairman of Academetrics and a housing market specialist, said that despite the current economic and regulatory conditions there is evidence to suggest the housing market is recovering.

"With no increase in the average price over the last 12 months, it does mean that for some households - those which have seen wage rises - affordability has improved and, while interest rates remain low, entry to home ownership is a possibility," he said.

(Households that have seen wage rises? Are they the same ones with the flying pigs in the back garden?)

Disputing the decrease claim is property giant Halifax, which has just published its figures showing that property prices actually increased slightly by 0.1 per cent in March, although overall they say there has been a drop year on year of 2.9 per cent. Nationwide also reported a rise in UK house prices, with its research indicating that prices went up by 0.5 per cent last month.

Housing economist at Halifax, Martin Ellis, said that the bank expects house prices to fall by two per cent during 2011.

"Uncertainty over the general economic outlook and individual financial circumstances are likely to constrain housing demand, resulting in some modest downward pressure on prices" he advised.

Still confused? Then throw 'stagflation' into the mix - rising prices and a stagnant economy - and who knows where we'll end up!

Essex County Council

PUBLIC NOTICE - ADMISSION NUMBERS

In accordance with Regulation 9 of The Education (Determination of Admission Arrangements) (England) Regulations 1999 (as amended), notice is hereby given that Essex County Council being the admission authority for the following junior and primary schools, has determined an admission number for the admission of pupils to the relevant year group* in the academic year 2012/13 which is lower than the Indicated Admission Number set by the net capacity formula.

School	Year Group*	Indicated Admission Number	Published Admission Number
Longwood Primary School	R	37	30
Purford Green Primary School	R	37	30
Spinney Junior School	3	67	60

* The year group in which pupils are normally admitted to the school.
R = Reception and 3 = Year 3

The reasons for determining admissions numbers that are lower than those indicated by the net capacity formula for admissions to the junior and primary schools listed above in 2012/13 are set out below:

Longwood Primary School and Purford Green Primary School

The admission numbers have been determined at a level that can accommodate forecast demand for places from within these schools' priority admissions areas and from children with a sibling already attending them.

In addition to the reasons provided above, admission numbers at these schools have been determined to enable the schools to comply with the infant class size limit. The regulations governing infant class sizes specify that, subject to certain exceptions, infant classes of 5, 6 and 7 year olds may not contain more than 30 pupils with a single qualified teacher.

Spinney Junior School

The admission number has been determined at a level that can accommodate forecast demand for places from within the school's priority admissions area and from children with a sibling already attending the school or the partner infant school.

A parent resident in the administrative area of Essex County Council with a child aged between 2 and 5 or with a child of compulsory school age at primary school may object if the Published Admission Number (PAN) for a school is lower than the Indicated Admission Number (IAN). Such objections should be referred to the Office of the Schools' Adjudicator, Mowden Hall, Staindrop Road, Darlington DL3 9BG by 31 July 2011.

The adjudicator is only required to determine an objection referred by a parent relating to an admission number for any relevant age group which is lower than the indicated admission number for that age group if not less than 10 eligible parents have referred objections, or one or more such objections jointly, which are about the same admission arrangements and raise the same or substantially the same issue.

Further information about the admission number or about a parent's right of objection may be obtained from the School Organisation and Planning Team, Schools, Children and Families, PO Box 4261, Chelmsford CM1 1GS, by telephoning 01245 436891 or by emailing admin.strategy@essex.gov.uk Pressure point!

Play-off tension rising but boss says his Hawks can handle it

DANNY Chapman believes his players must find a way to deal with the pressure as his Harlow Town side close in on a play-off spot.

Some bosses might try and deflect tension off their squad ahead of a crucial two-game Easter period, but the Hawks boss, pictured right, wants his team to revel in it – and crush complacency.

Wins over Waltham Forest (away this Saturday) and Ware (at home on Bank Holiday Monday) will surely be enough to secure the necessary top five final position as the sides directly below them – AFC Sudbury, Grays and Maldon & Tiptree have to play Needham Market, East Thurrock and Heybridge (a local derby) respectively on April 25.

And Chapman has vowed that if his side need to get a win at Needham

By ALAN SCOTT

Market on the final league game of the season, they are more than capable of doing so.

He said: "You would not be human if you did not feel nerves. Managers will say the pressure is off but I say the pressure is there. I'm not going to take it off them. The players are experienced enough to handle it."

"We played [Needham] early on and we were unlucky, but they are not second for no reason. They have been there or thereabouts all year. We know they are a decent side."

"But I believe we have got the best squad of players in the league. I feel we can beat anyone on our day – I have no doubt about that."

However, Chapman would love his side to seal a play-off place in front of the home fans on Monday. "If we get six points from [the next two games] we have a fantastic chance of finishing third," he said.

"If you look at the four teams in the play-off [places], they are all playing each other on the last game of the season. Brentwood are away to Wingate & Finchley. It will be nice to have it done by then, but if we need to go to Needham..."

Striker Che Stadhart (knee) is Harlow's only injury doubt.

Meanwhile, Chapman revealed that Spurs left-back Daniel Day will not be joining on a work placement – after the North London giants failed to complete paperwork in time.

The Hawks boss was delighted with Saturday's win over Heybridge. "That's 13 games unbeaten. That shows the fantastic effort from everyone at Harlow Town FC. We were 13th in January and to go to fourth, that's down to the coaching, the players and the backroom staff," he beamed.

Roget red card reprieve as Town hold onto vital win

Harlow Tn 2, Heybridge Swifts 1
Ryman, division one north

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman admitted his skipper Leo Roget was desperately fortunate not to be sent off as his side edged closer to a play-off spot with a 2-1 win over Heybridge Swifts in Saturday's Essex derby at Barrows Farm, writes ALAN SCOTT.

Harlow Town are now unbeaten in 13 games and could mathematically clinch a play-off place this Saturday at Waltham Forest, but realistically will have to wait until at least the Easter Monday clash at home to neighbours Ware.

But Harlow were thankful that skipper Leo Roget was not sent off with six minutes remaining – and the hosts holding a narrow 2-1 advantage.

A quick ball over the top seemed to give Heybridge striker Luke Callander the opportunity to make it 2-2 on 84 minutes.

Roget, showing all of his 33 years, struggled to get back and had no option but to bring down Callander just two yards outside the box.

Referee Mr A. Aylott rather bizarrely only produced a yellow card – and Harlow will hope that sort of luck remains with them in the play-offs, should they get there. Chapman told the Star afterwards: "He deserved to go. If you look at the rules he has brought the man down. It was lucky for us – the ref helped us out. I honestly expected him to go as soon as the foul happened. It was a straight red."

The subsequent free-kick was curled wide of the right post by Russell Pond as Harlow secured a vital three points.

The hosts took the lead on 35 minutes when a clever free-kick from midfielder Leon Lalite caught out Heybridge. Lalite pushed this quickly out to the right side of the box and right-back Donny Barnard crossed back in to Bertie Brayley who poked the ball home.

But Harlow were undone on 64 minutes when keeper Jim Hasell failed to collect a corner from Swifts skipper Danny Barber and Callander headed powerfully home. "Jim had his hands up to come for it and did not get there," said Chapman.

Harlow went back in front on 68 minutes after a delightful goal from Lee Roache.

The striker had a slice of luck as an attempted clearance deflected into his path, but he then showed great play to beat two defenders before firing powerfully across goal and into the top left corner.

Moments later Harlow should have made it 3-1 when Brayley tucked the ball under the keeper – only to see his goal ruled out by a very late and debatable offside decision.

On 77 minutes Harlow produced a lovely move as Roache and Brayley combined well. Roache's delicate shot from inside the box clipped the bar and came out to Steve Ferguson who rashly hammered it over the bar when he only needed to pass it into the net.

Then came the late red card that never was – as Harlow used up their get out of jail free card.

New-look Harlow out to impress

LUKE Heskett is delighted with his new-look Harlow side – and has his sights firmly set on the league title.

Harlow begin their competitive campaign with a Shepherd Neame Essex Cricket League Cup first round home match against division two rivals Leigh-on-Sea this Saturday (1pm). Heskett begins his first season as captain after replacing the departed Jason McNally.

Harlow also have a new coach in charge. Former Hutton coach Mike Boyers, the ex-chairman of the Essex League and one-time head of cricket development at the University of Essex, has taken over the side.

Boyers is the stepfather of Harlow's former Essex bowler Andrew McGarry.

He also played a major role in landing two key new signings from premier division side Romford & Gidea Park.

Harris Afridi is an all-rounder and his pace bowling will be a vital weapon for Harlow this season.

He joins all-rounder and off-spinner Brian Kulasekera at Marigolds.

Leg spinner Matt Nobles has also been recruited while 17-year-old wicket-keeper Jeff Wiltshire has been promoted from the second team.

Heskett said: "It's a young side but a good blend of youth and experience. We would like to win the league."
